James R. Keene flees Mis Colors Lowered in Three Events—Guy, Brother of Tommy Burns, a Promising Lightweight Vicissitudes of the Bookmakers,

"If I don't beat Court Dress with my filly Tankee Girl to-day I'll never bet another dellar on a horserace!" Plunger Charley Ellison made this remark before the races at Belmont Park yesterday and so confident was he in the fleet daughter of Sir Dixon that he went into the betting ring at the opening of the speculation on the Ladies Stakes and proceeded to load up the bookmakers with an immense wager. There was as much as 6 to 1 on tap against Yankes Girl, but Ellison's plunge, followed by heavy wagers from Frank Farrell, Joe Cassidy and the club-house speculators, soon backed the filly down o 13 to 5 and even lower at the close. Radtke up Ellison was so sure that the race was in that he would have placed an even larger commission if the layers had been willing to accept it. The public meanwhile willing to accept it.

By the beavily on Court Dress, remembering her form of last season, but she went up in the prices just the same. When Yankee Girl was back in the ruck Ellison was still con-

ident that she would win. She always runs that way," said he to a rowd of friends who were also aboard of the good thing. "But wait until she hits the he good thing. "But wast until she had to tell hich way she went!"

Yankee Girl made good and the plunger took down $25,000 in wagers, while the race was worth about $6,000 to the winner. Last saturday Ellison stood to win about $80,000 If Yankee Girl had won a race at Gravesend, out Bill Daly's Sailor Boy spoiled the coup. Court Dress was plainly in need of a race or two, while Adoration was fairly beaten. Several good critics declared that neither of these fillies liked the distance and that Elli-son, knowing this, believed that his filly was a sure thing. But at that Radtke's magnificent finish was the chief factor in the plunger's success. The Ladies Stakes was run for the first time in 1890, the prerious winners being Sinaloa II., Castalia, Yorkville Belle, Naphta, Nahma, Inter-mission, Divide, Geisha, Prestidigitatrice, Oneck Queen, Janice, Blue Girl, Girdle, Beldame, Flinders and Perverse.

dame, Funders and Ferverse.

James R. Keene went to the track confident that the would win four races. When Grimaldi captured the first event in a gallop the vice-chairman of the Jockey Club was greatly encouraged, but the defeat of Court Dress in the Ladies Stakes, followed by the downfall of Philander and Cabochon in succeeding events, was a bitter disap-pointment. The plungers went to Grimaldi is if it was a case of taking money out of a savings bank. From 4 to 5 they backed the Disguise colt down to 15 to 20 and cashed with much hilarity. There was also a big play on Kiamesha a place at 3 to 5, while the public, unable to accept the short price about the Keene colt, took a chance on the Esher mare to win at 17 to 10.

The second race was a lively betting affair. here were twelve starters and nine of them attracted more or less attention in the speculation. Marbles opened favorite at 3, but went up to 4 because of the play on Fordello, who was reduced from 5 to 7 to 2 favorite. Dave Johnson's Tileklins was well played three ways at 5, while Boots Durnell's Joe Sealon was also solidly backed at the same rice. There was a liberal play on The Dane t 6, while the Newcastle Stable's Scallop, with Miller up, was taken well at 8. E. R. homas's Ferry Landing, a colt by Herbert-Fairyland, was a hot tip and 8 to 1 was grabbed with eagerness. H. T. Griffin's Herbie, a colt by Herbert-Beria, was backed from 40 lown to 15. There was also light support for Glorious Betay across the boards at 20, 8 and The finish was so close that many of the spectators in the grand stand behind the udges' stand thought that Glorious Betsy won by a head, but as usual the angle was known to themselves laid against Tokalon in the third race in spite of a heavy play. She was in demand all over the ring at 8 to 5 out she receded to 9 to 5 when the money began to make its appearance on Dan Buhre at 5, Welbourne, backed down to 6, and Philan-der, played down to 11 to 5. Tokalon got a Booker that caused much com-Tammany mare until he was within a hundred yards of the ste wards, when he put her under feeble drive. With more vigorous handhave beaten Ironsides as the son of Meddler was ready to quit in the final sixteenth. Nobody of any account bet en Ironsides, although one man, not a regular, cashed a bet of $6,000 to $400. The ring won a ton of

Although St. Valentine, after winning a race the other day, was disqualified the incident was apparently overlooked by the talent when the old Himyar horse was posted as a starter in the fifth event. Archie Zimmer, the trainer, had a small wager on St. Valentine at 7 to 1, while several of the clubhouse patrons also took a chance. But the plungers and the public in general bet on Water Tank as if it was all over. The ring was flooded with large wagers on the Watercress gelding, who was backed off the boards at the last lockey Miller, who had the mount, was sure that Water Tank would win, which perhaps had something to do with his de-feat. For when Water Tank rolled into the home stretch with a commanding lead Miller looked back and seemed to ease up. He was sitting still when St. Valentine, coming from nowhere, and Royal Ben closed with a tremendous rush. When it was too late Miller shook his mount up and went to the whip. But the effort went for nothing and the ring cleaned up a big bundle.
Royal Ben was framed for a mild killing and he was backed from 30 to 15. His performance was a vast improvement over his to form. Howard Oats and his Western friends lost back some of their Crackenthorpe winnings on Topsy Robinson in this race, sa the mare was backed down to 5. There was a rush to back Chief Hayes, too, his price tumbling from 8 to 4, while Robador was in some demand at 7.

There were only three starters in the last race and the players were puzzled whether to bet on Miniota or Cabochon. The smart fellows who knew that Miniota had worked three-quarters in 1:12 hurried into the ring and backed the Locohatchee colt from even money down to 9 to 10. This play made Cabochen go back from 9 to 10 to even money The books in many instances put up 9 to 10 against each and took all the coin they could sy their hands on. Miniota was inclined to bolt at the head of the stretch, but Notter tept him under control by tapping him over the head with his whip.

Guy Burne, who rode St. Valentine, has been making rapid strides of late. He is a riding in Europe, and has developed into a most promising lightweight. He can use the whip with either hand and can put up a great finish. No jockey hereabouts could have ridden St. Valentine better than this Youngster yesterday. Burns timed his rush to the second and when he put on the punish ment he fairly lifted the old horse over the faish line. The ride attracted a great deal of attention and caused much favorable comment from horsemen in general. Radtke is taking on weight these days. He finds it a difficult matter to get under 110 bounds, in spite of much exercise and a constant patronage of Turkish baths. He is riding in fine form, however, his handling of Yankee Girl being about the best bit of horse-manship seen here in many a day.

It is said that J. Lee, a colored jockey riding to the West, is the equal of Miller. Lee is a wonder at getting away from the post and is a cool headed, daring rider in tight places. In view of the demand for good jockeys in the East just new it is strange that somebody does not bag this excellent rider.

If the handicappear continues to pile the loss not bag this excellent rider.

If the handicapper continues to pile the light on Nealon Boots Durnell might as well give up all hope of winning a race with the Sain colt, who ran third in the Brooklyn handicap. Durnell acratched Nealon out-of yesterday's handicap, as he was asked to take up 126 pounds.

YANKEE GIRUS GREAT FINISH. Wins Ladies' Stakes, at a Mile, in Last

In a most sensational finish, after running a greater part of the way in the ruck, C. R., Ellison's Yankee Girl, by Sir Dixon, won the Ladies Stakes for three year-old fillies, one mile, at Beimont Park yesterday afternoon. Yankee Girl, who won the City Park Derby last winter at New Orleans, was backed from two-year-old filly last season, was takene's Court Dress, by Disguise, who was the best two-year-old filly last season, was a lukewarm favorite, going back in the betting from even money to 8 to 5, while R. T. Wilson Jr. is, Adoration was also in demand at 14 to 5. Miller rushed Court Dress to the front when the barrier went up, attended by Adoration.

Yankee Girl, slow to begin, dropped out of it to be beaten. But Radthe gradually made up his ground, until at the head of the stretch he had moved up into third place. At that stage Court Dress was leading by a length and a half, with Adoration six lengths in front of Yankee Girl. But Radtke then sat down to ride in earnest, with the result that Yankee Girl, by leaps and bounds, rushed up to the pacemakers, who were tiring rapidly. Court Dress, who was evidently short, soon stopped, and Adoration under a hard drive looked the and Advation under a hard drive looked the winner at the sixteenth pole; but Yankee Girl, running faster and stronger than ever, was irresistible and won the race, going away, by half a length in 1:40 3-5. Adoration had two lengths over Court Dress.

H. P. Whitney's Fronsides, neglected at 12 to 1, made all the pace in the handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, and won easily by a length from J. W. Fuller's Tokalon, 9 to 5 favorite, who got a weak ride from Booker, yet took the measure of Mr. Keene's Philander, 11 to 5 by a length. The latter also received poor handing from Miller, who had been shut off several times. The race was run, in 1:47.

received poor handling from Miller, who had been shut off several times. The race was run in 147.

Mr. Keene's Grimaldi, 15 to 20 favorite, ran off with the first race, at seven furlongs. He was gailoping at the wire, where he beat the Oneck Stable's Kiamesha, 17 to 19, by four lengths in 1:26 flat. Marster, 10 to 1, was a poor third.

The finish of the second race, for two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, was so close that only the judges could place the first three. Marbles, 4 to 1, second choice, got the verdict by a head, with Glorious Betsy, 20 to 1, in the place, beating Fordello, 7 to 2 favorite, by a nose. Tileklins, 5 to 1, was three parts of a length back. The time was 0:52 1-5, a fifth of a second slower than the track record.

A vigorous finish by Guy Burns landed St. Valentine, 7 to 1, winner of the fifth race, one mile, by a neck on the post, Royal Ben, backed down to 15, was in the place, three parts of a length before Water Tank, a hot favorite at 7 to 5, who had a big lead up to the last sixteenth pole, where it looked as if Miller was caught napping. The mile was run in 1:39.

Miniota, backed down to 9 to 19, won the last race, at seven furlongs, from Mr. Keene's Cabochon, even money, by three parts of a length. The winner was pulled to a walk. The time was 1:25. Two favorites and two second choices got the money. The attendance was 10,000. The summaries:

ATHLETES IN TRIAL HEATS

YALE AND CORNELL LEAD IN QUALIFICATIONS. Showing of the Ells in Intercollegiate Champtenship Preliminaries a Surprise

-Garrels of Michigan a Tower of Strength-Fast Time in Quarter. BOSTON, Mass., May 31 .- The preliminary trials of the thirty-second annual track and field championships of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America were held to-day at the Harvard Stadium The chief feature of these weeding out contests was the anxiety among the colleges to see which would qualify the most men. When the day was over it was found that Yale and Cornell vere tied, both having twelve men qualified. The Elis caused a surprise by the strength they showed and their chances look improved for to-morrow. Harvard qualified ten men and Michigan nine. The score of the others were: Pennsylvania, 8; Princeton, 6; Amherst, 4: Swarthmore, Dartmouth, Syracuse, 3 each, and Johns Hopkins, 1.

One of the most exciting trials of the day was the first heat of the quarter, in which the star opponents were J. B. Taylor, the colored boy of Pennsylvania, and W. T. Coholan of Yale. The Yale man made the darky fiver put on all his steam to come home in front and the time, 49 4-5 seconds, shows the quality of the pace better than anything else. Rogers of Cornell, last year's winner, ran a rattling heat and recled off the quarter n 50 1-5 seconds. The 120 yard hurdles saw the topnotchers in great shape. Shaw of Dartmouth and Hubbard of Amherst galloped away with their heats. Garrels, the Michigan timber topper, tecounted for a heat, and his time of 15 4-5 seconds places him in the same class as Hubbard and Shaw, and the final to-morrow should be worth going miles to see. The weight throwers had an interesiting time of it at the hammer and shot. Krueger time of it at the hammer and shot. Krueger of Amherst proved himself to be a fine shot with his put of 45 feet 8 inches. Garrels put 45 feet 2 inches and immediately afterward he had a shy at the hurdles. One of his puts with the shot taped over 46 feet, but he made a slight foul and the record of 46 feet by Fred Beck of Yaie just escaped being shattered. E. B. Parsons of Yaie showed his old time form in the first heat of the half mile. The time was 1 minute 58 3-5 seconds, a rather respectable piece of running, especially as the Yaiensian was not pushed very hard. The summaries:

CAMP SPORTS AT VAN CORTLANDT Troopers of Squadron A Carry Out Gym

kana Sports.

To vary the two weeks in camp at Van Cortlandt Park there was a racing and gymkana meet conducted by Squadron A yester-day afternoon. The racecourse was the parade ground, and the sport pleased the guests of the troopers, who came up with automobiles or on the coach, and a few folks of the neighborhood. The games are in line with the policy of making the troopers expert rough riders as well as cavalrymen. Louis V. Froment, who won the Grand National Military Steeplechase on New Zealander and is a noted cross-country rider, had the leg up on the winners in the two flat races. There were twelve starters in the first, at a quarter of a mile, Froment winning easily on J. O. Nicholls's bay pony Whirlwind, a performer at National Hunt races. The troopers rode on blankets in this race and without stirrups. Privates Sheldon and Williams, on troop horses, were second and third in a head finish. The second race on the flat, a substitute for the hurdle race, Froment wor with the chestnut polo pony Miss L., owned jointly by R. C. Laurence and J. H. Hunt. It was one circuit of the parade g round, with It was one circuit of the parade g round, with seven starters. Private W. H. Pool rode the second and Private Henry Goddard the third pony. It was a straggling finish.

Both gymkana races furnished fun for the troopers and onlookers. In the potatorace Capt. H. Smith was quickest and won first honors, with Privates Slade and Nicholls second and third. The next combined an egg and spoon, a cigarette lighting and an umbrella race, with obstacle features. The three to finish one, two and three were Privates Ridgely Nicholls, Henry Smith and W. K. Rainsford. The best on the card was the novice race. The starters rode bareback horses to the turning stakes, beside which were saddles, pistola, holsters and salves. Dismounting at the stakes, the troopers in the race had each to saddle his mount unaided and to don his equipment properly, then jump on the herse and ride out the finish. The three men placed in order were Privates W. H. Pool, Kenneth Wardman and Robinson Leach. The prony Dun Billy ran away with Private Shirley Preston in this race.

PELL AND LE ROY WIN. They Beat the Massachusetts Doubles

Champions in Manhattan Tourney Final. The final round in the lawn tennis tournsment for the Manhattan championship in doubles was played yesterday on the courts. of the New York L. T. C., Robert LeRoy and Theodore R. Pell taking the measure of Irving C. Wright and Edgar W. Leonard, the Massachusetts State champions. LeRoy and Pell are now to meet Harold H. Hackett and John A. Allen, who have won the trophics twice, in the challenge round. It is the general opinion that Hackett and Allen will carry off the bowls for the third time, thus taking round by defeating Wiley C. Grant and Her-bert L. Westfall, who were supposed to be rather likely to win the match. In spite of their raggedness, Grant and Westfall won the first set and had the second at 4-3 and the vantage point when Pell was serving. Pell made a net oord stroke, which brought the score back to deuce and they earned the next two points and took the score to 4-all. Then he and his partner carried all before them. The final round was a struggle of increasing difficulty. After taking the first set at 6-S, LeRoy and Pell fell off a little bit and the Bostonians carried the battle to them so successfully that they won at 7-5. With the darkness increasing, it was left to the odd set to decide the struggle, and the third set went to the New Yorkers at 11-9.

A single match was played in the Felipe cup semi-final, Henry Mollenhauer defeating George P. Touchard.

JOHNNY BALL REDIVIVUS. Captures British Amateur Golf Championship for Sixth Time. Andrews, Scotland, May 31.-In the final round of the tournament for the British amateur golf championship to-day John Ball of the Royal Liverpool Club beat A. C. Palmer, also an Englishman, by 6 up and 4 to Palmer is unknown here, but Johnny Ball s one of the world's heroes on the links. This is the sixth time Ball has won theamateur championship, and, coupled with the prominence until the closing rounds of H.H. Hilton, would indicate that the old guard have little to fear from any of the youngsters-in brief, the time is ripe for a grand young golfer to arrive. Ball's preeminence in winnings is the more remarkable because no other amateur has ever won more than twice. Those to do so have been Horace Hutchinson, in 484 and 1887, the first years it was played: J. I Laidlay, the late F. G. Tait and H. H. Hilton Ball was runnerup in 1887 to Hutchinson a Ball was runnerup in 1887 to Hutchinson a to L. B. Melville, after a tie, in 1895.

Winning first in 1888 and 1890, both times with J. E. Laidlay as runnerup, Ball's next win was in 1892, when he beat H. H. Hilton by 3 and 1 at Sandwich. Two years later Bail gained his fourth win at Hoylake, besting Mure Fergusson by 1 up. The next year came his tie with Belfour-Melville, to whom he lost on the playoff. The fifth victory was in 1899, the final having been extended to thritysix holes in 1898, Ball tying with Tait and winning a thirty-eight hole match. In 1890 Ball won the open championship, in that year holding the double crown.

Ball went to the Boer war as an officer of volunteers and received a parting gift of a handsome charger and equipment from his golfing friends. Since the war his golfing has been ranged, but during the present season his name appeared as the maker of some lovescores.

COLUMBIA CREWS LEAVE. Off To-day for Poughkeepste for Final Training Stages for Big Regatta.

The Columbia University crews leave this norning on the West Shore Railroad for Highland, where their boathouse will be this season. The oarsmen will live across the river in Poughkeepsie. This is a change from the policy instituted by Coach Goodwin. He believed in having the men out of the town, Coach Rice presumably has the same idea as Edward Hanlan had. The original plans of the Columbia carement called for leaving on June 3.
